<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

In certain circumstances the sale of assets, such as land (including buildings) or shares, may be assessable, including where the taxpayer trades in the asset and/or where the asset is purchased with an intention of resale.

Land and Buildings

If you purchased the property on or after 29 March 2018, but before 27 March 2021, the Brightline test may apply if you sell it within five years of buying. If you purchased the property on or after 27 March 2021, the Brightline test can apply if the property is sold within a ten year period. For land acquired after 27 March 2021 a five-year Brightline period may apply (rather than ten years) if the requirements for a 'new build' are satisfied.

There are some exclusions that can apply to the Brightline test, such as the 'main home' exclusion and the exclusion for inherited property.

There are other income tax rules, in addition to the Brightline test, that can result in profits from the sale of land and buildings being assessable.

If you receive more WFFTC's than you are entitled to, the government will require repayment of the amounts you have received over and above what you are entitled to receive. Consequently, it is important that this worksheet is completed correctly. Please contact us if any part of the worksheet requires clarification.

If you receive WFFTC's progressively during an income year, it is important to immediately notify the Inland Revenue of any changes in your circumstances that may be relevant in determining your entitlement, so that any required adjustments can be made to the payments you receive.

You can read more about determining your entitlement to WFFTC's on the Inland Revenue website (www.ird.govt.nz)
- simply type in "Working for Families" in the search information bar.
